The asymmetrical design of the outside surface of the table shows the product differentiation feature and the beauty of the product.

The main engine cabinet is designed with cooling panel, which fully considers the heat dissipation problem of computer host. To configure the walking slot, the standard cable is in good order, and the inside of the main engine cabinet is earthed.

The host cabinet has standard intelligent arrangement, no longer use the 86 socket box, and the walk line between the mesa display is more concise and beautiful.

In the lower part of the heat sink, there is a circular hole in the back up line, which takes into account all kinds of unexpected and unexpected treatment methods.
